Information and advice from Hampshire County Council for families, education providers and support services about children with special educational needs, education health and care assessments and education health and care plans.

This information and advice is current as at 1200hrs Monday 30 March 2020. As the government's response to the Covid 19 outbreak develops, Hampshire County Council will review and update this information and advice.

EHC assessments

I want to request an EHC assessment. Can I still do that?	As a result of the Covid 19 outbreak schools and colleges are closed and open only for the children of key worker households and vulnerable children. School and college staff, Educational Psychologists and Local Authority staff are engaged with organising and providing essential services for these children. The Government has directed everyone to stay at home unless they absolutely must go out and even then, only for some essential activities. The Education, Health and Care Assessment process involves early years setting, school and college staff, Local Authority officers and Educational Psychologists. Many elements of the process require direct contact between professionals, families and children and young people. Under the current government arrangements, it will be very difficult for these professionals to work in this way, or for the Local Authority to progress any requests for assessment beyond the initial administration. This inevitably means that the Local Authority may not be able to complete Education, Health and Care assessments within the normal timescales. Where it is possible for parents and professionals to wait until schools and colleges have returned to business as usual before requesting an Education, Health and Care assessment, that would be helpful. Please contact the SEN Service Helpline: 01329316165 if there are particular, extenuating reasons for doing so earlier.
I would like my child to have an EHC plan to continue going to school or college during the Covid 19 outbreak. Can I request an EHC	An Education, Health and Care plan may not guarantee that a child can attend school or college during the Covid 19 outbreak as children with Education, Health and Care plans will only be attending school or college if their needs cannot be safely met at home. Therefore, having an Education, Health and Care plan may not be helpful in enabling your child to continue to attend school or college. The latest government guidance is available at: https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/coronavirus-covid-19-guidance-on-vulnerable-children-and-young-people/coronavirus-covid-19-guidance-on-vulnerable-children-and-young-people

assessment so that they can?	It should be noted that Education, Health and Care assessments usually take 20 weeks from request to issuing a final plan. With the emergency measures now in place, Education, Health and Care assessments are likely to take much longer than this, therefore applying for an Education, Health and Care assessment now is unlikely to help your child access school or college during this emergency period. The government’s guidance on vulnerable children has confirmed that children undergoing an Education, Health and Care assessment are not defined as vulnerable (see question below about what happens in the Local Authority issues a draft Education, Health and Care plan during the Covid 19 outbreak). You should follow the government guidance about school or college closure, staying at home, social distancing, self-isolation and eligibility to continue attending school or college for children in key worker households and vulnerable children.
My child’s EHC assessment is already underway. When will it be complete?	The Local Authority will do all that it can to progress Education, Health and Care assessments already started. However, it is likely to be significantly delayed because schools and colleges are closed, and the other professionals usually involved in the process will not be able to undertake assessment activity in the usual way. Where professionals such as the Local Authority’s Educational Psychologists have already assessed children, they are working to complete their advice and provide it to the Local Authority. Some professionals may need to complete assessments already started but in different ways, such as by telephone. Where at all possible the Local Authority will use all recent reports (up-to 12 months old) including those that were not part of the Education, Health and Care assessment process if you and the Local Authority agree that they are suitable to complete the assessment. This is in keeping with current legal requirements. Any draft Education, Health and Care plans completed in this way will be shared on the express understanding that they are not based on full assessment information, and families will be able to elect whether to accept the draft EHC plan or defer the completion of a final Education, Health and Care plan until schools and colleges and other services return to business as usual, and a full Education, Health and Care assessment can be completed. Where families elect to accept a final Education, Health and Care plan built on this basis, we will consider with the family whether an early Annual Review is needed.
My child was issued a draft EHC plan before schools and colleges	If your child has a draft Education, Health and Care plan or the decision to draft an Education, Health and Care plan was made by 20 March 2020 when schools and colleges closed, then they can be considered as a child who could continue to attend school. Most parents are preferring to keep their children home during the Covid 19 outbreak. If you prefer that they attend school or college it would

closed on 20 March 2020. Are they eligible to attend school as they have an EHC plan?	be most sensible and practical that your child continue to attend their current school or college for the time being. You should speak with your current school or college if you would like your child to start attending during the period that they are closed because of the Covid 19 outbreak. The Local Authority will proceed to finalise the Education, Health and Care plan as soon as possible with regard to the existing legislation. However, individual children’s plans will be processed as is most sensible, taking into account the current challenges.
My child’s EHC assessment was not completed by 20 March, and I haven’t received a draft EHC plan by 20 March. If the Local Authority issues a draft or final EHC plan while schools are closed, would they be eligible to attend school or college?	If your child’s Education, Health and Care assessment was not completed by 20 March 2020, or a decision to issue a draft Education, Health and Care plan was not made by 20 March 2020, and you are not in a key worker household, they are not currently considered as a child who is eligible to attend school during the Covid 19 outbreak. The Local Authority will do all that it can to progress Education, Health and Care assessments already started. However, it may be significantly delayed because schools and colleges are closed and the other professionals usually involved in the process will not be able to undertake assessment activity in the usual way. If the Local Authority issues your child with a draft Education, Health and Care plan then they can be considered as a child eligible to attend school or college during the Covid 19 outbreak. If you wish for them to attend school or college, it would be most sensible and practical that your child continued to attend their current school or college for the time being. You should speak with your current early years setting, school or college if you would like your child to start attending during the period that they are closed because of the Covid 19 outbreak. The Local Authority will proceed to finalise draft Education, Health and Care plans as soon as possible with regard to the existing legislation. However, individual children will be processed as is most sensible, taking into account the current challenges.
My child with an EHC plan is due to change phase of education / change school. What will happen now?	If your child with an Education, Health and Care plan is changing phase of education (from infant to junior, junior or primary to secondary school or secondary school to college), the Local Authority has by now secured their next school place for September 2020. If you have not yet received confirmation of your child’s next school placement, the Local Authority will continue to consult with your preferred and other suitable schools to secure a place for September 2020, and let you know as soon as it can that the next school place has been secured. If your child with an Education, Health and Care plan has finished school and is moving to college, sixth-form or an apprenticeship, the Local Authority will continue to consult with your preferred and other suitable settings to secure a

	place for September 2020 and let you know as soon as it can that the next placement has been secured.
My child is starting Year R in September. I think they have SEN, but they don't have an EHC plan and I haven't requested an EHC assessment.	You should already have applied for your child's school place through the Local Authority's Admissions Service. The Admissions Service will allocate places in mainstream schools according to the published admissions criteria. All state-funded mainstream schools have their own and access to significant resources to meet all children's special educational needs. Schools must use their 'best endeavours' – a legal term meaning they must do everything reasonable – to meet all children's needs, including those with special educational needs. If, after starting mainstream school, and when schools and other services have returned to business as usual, it is thought that the child requires an Education, Health and Care assessment, the school or you can request one.

Annual Reviews

My child's Annual Review is overdue / due now / due soon. Will it go ahead?	Early years settings, schools and colleges may think it more appropriate to postpone any scheduled Annual Reviews of Education, Health and Care plans during the Covid 19 outbreak, depending on their capacity to attend to other priorities. Professionals contributing their views to Annual Reviews, such as Educational Psychologists or Speech & Language Therapists may not be able to prioritise their work on your child's case, or they may not be able to comprehensively carry-out work associated with the Annual Review because of the government's restrictions due to the Covid 19 outbreak. If Annual Reviews do go ahead, they may be conducted by video conference if the family, school or college and involved professionals are available, have access to secure video conferencing facilities and agree with that approach. There is no obligation for the school or college to provide these facilities to families but many free to use applications are available. Even though vulnerable children with Education, Health and Care plans may be able to attend school or college, they may receive a much reduced offer and not necessarily all the provision (including therapies) in their Education, Health and Care plan during the Covid 19 outbreak. Families should speak with their school or college's Special Educational Needs Coordinator about the school or college's offer in light of the Covid 19 outbreak.

Therapy Provision

My child needs to continue	Following government guidance the Therapists currently need to practice social distancing. This is in the best interests of parents and children.
-----------------------------------	---

receiving the therapy in their EHC plan. Will they receive it?	Due to the very high demand on the NHS, only therapy for high priority needs is being provided in the community. This means that therapy services are only able to do things which, if not done, could be a risk to parents or children. This might be because of swallowing difficulties, or that your child needs you to help them move or your child has specialist equipment to help them be comfortable and safe. Contacts from the Therapy Services will be by telephone or video conferencing rather than in-person unless you or your child needs to have the therapist with you to do a particular thing, such as listen to a swallow or adjust a piece of equipment. This would be discussed with you before the visit and be in agreement with you and only where you and your child are well and are not self-isolating. Occupational Therapists, Speech and Language Therapists and Physiotherapists will continue to work to advice and guidance from the Government, NHS England, their professional bodies and the Health and Care Professions Council (HCPC) which is under regular review during this time. For NHS : If you have an urgent concern or are worried about your child please contact the Solent NHS Trust Children's Therapies Telephone Advice Line: 0300 300 2019 They are available Monday to Friday 8 am- 5pm.

Education Provision during the Covid 19 outbreak

Who are 'vulnerable children'?	Essentially, these are children with a Social Worker or those aged 0 – 25 with Education, Health and Care plans. A full list of vulnerable children and their entitlement to continuing support during the Covid 19 outbreak is available at: https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/coronavirus-covid-19-guidance-on-vulnerable-children-and-young-people/coronavirus-covid-19-guidance-on-vulnerable-children-and-young-people
Must all children with EHC plans continue to attend school or college?	No. These decisions will be made by parents on a case-by-case basis in liaison between the Local Authority, schools and colleges and families. Many parents of children with Education, Health and Care Plans have decided to keep their children at home during the Covid 19 outbreak. Parents should contact their school or college to discuss their child's attendance.
My child has an EHC plan and is entitled to full-time education including their 1:1 support.	The government is using its emergency powers to modify the statutory duty on Local Authorities to maintain the precise provision in Education, Health and Care Plans. Children with an Education, Health and Care plan may not therefore receive all the provision, including therapies, in their Education, Health and Care plan during the Covid 19 outbreak. Schools and colleges are making sensible, pragmatic provision for children with Education Health and Care plans and other vulnerable children in line with the

Will they get it?	government’s requirements on social distancing and with the staff resources that are available to them, which are significantly reduced. Families should speak with their school or college’s Special Educational Needs Coordinator about their school or college’s offer and arrangements during the Covid 19 outbreak.
The government has said that Local Authorities will ‘risk assess’ the continuing education arrangements for children with EHC Plans. What is HCC doing?	Hampshire County Council has risk assessed the continuing education arrangements for children with Education, Health and Care plans who receive education other than at school (EOTAS) – see the FAQ section called Education Other Than At School. Where children are attending school or college, staff in those settings will be undertaking their own risk assessments in conjunction with parents and involving the Local Authority as necessary. Otherwise, Hampshire County Council’s continuing education arrangements for vulnerable children including those with Education, Health and Care plans is answered in other sections of this FAQ.

State-funded Special Schools & Colleges

My child is due to be transferring to another school in September 2020. What will happen?	If your child with an Education, Health and Care plan is changing phase of education (from infant to junior, junior or primary to secondary school), the Local Authority has by now secured their next school place. Currently the expectation is that schools will continue to work together to plan for the transition of children into new schools ready for September 2020. Should the advice and timeline for children to return to school mean that this is not possible, the Local Authority will update its advice and you will be contacted by your schools or the SEN Service.
My child is due to be transferring to college or other post-16 provision in September 2020. What will happen?	Ordinarily, Local Authorities would have up-to 31 March to amend Education, Health and Care plans for children moving from secondary school to post-16 provision. The Local Authority is in the process of consulting with colleges for these children. The Covid 19 outbreak will inevitably slow this process down. Currently the expectation is that schools and colleges will continue to work together to plan for the transition of children into college ready for September 2020. Should the advice and timeline for children to return to college mean that this is not possible, the Local Authority will update its advice and you will be contacted by your schools or the SEN Service.
My child is due to change schools in September, but a school	If you have not yet received confirmation of your child’s next school place, and they have an Education, Health and Care plan, the Local Authority will continue to consult with your preferred and other suitable schools to secure a place for September 2020. However, should contact with schools begin to reduce due to

placement has not yet been identified. What will happen?	lack of availability of staff, the Local Authority will need to review this process and will contact you.
My child with an EHC plan is due to be starting a new school now. What will happen?	Schools are currently working very hard to provide sufficient staffing levels for the most vulnerable children already attending that school. The provision that schools are making during the Covid 19 outbreak is much reduced. While some elements of daily education will continue, it is unlikely be an ordinary school day. Attempting transition of children with Education, Health and Care plans into a new school with reduced staff, unpredictability and a different structure to the day may not be appropriate. Each case will be considered by the Local Authority in discussion with the Headteacher(s) and decisions made on the individual needs of the child and the circumstances of the school.

Independent Special School, College and Provider Closures

What happens if my child's independent special school, college or provider closes?	The Local Authority does not have the same relationship with independent special schools, colleges and providers as it does for those that are state-funded. The government's expectation is that the same rules that apply to state-funded schools and colleges apply to independent special schools, colleges and providers. Some independent special schools, colleges and providers may need to close due to the Covid 19 outbreak. Independent special schools, colleges and providers will be facing the same staffing and public health concerns as state-funded special schools. If your child attends an independent special school, college or provider that closes and you cannot make any other arrangements to supervise your child with an Education, Health and Care plan at home, the Local Authority may be able to temporarily arrange for them to attend a state-funded special school or college. Phone the SEN Helpline: 01329 316165. The SEN Case Worker for the area in which you live will know which state-funded special schools and colleges may be most suitable and if there is capacity and expertise to support their needs. It will be the decision of the Headteacher of that special school or Principal of the college to confirm to the Local Authority that it can make a temporary arrangement for your child. If a temporary arrangement is offered, it is unlikely that the school or college will be able to deliver all the provision in the Education, Health and Care plan, including therapies. The provider and families need to risk assess their individual circumstances.
I would like to be paid the equivalent of the costs of the	This is not possible. Payments to education providers have usually already been made or guaranteed in advance; the Local Authority has contractual obligations to these providers, just as those employers do to their employees. Education other than at school (EOTAS)

My child has EOTAS arrangements. Are these continuing?	Special Needs Officers and Case Workers are contacting families of children with an Education, Health and Care plan who receive a package of education other than at school (EOTAS), and are not currently attending a nursery, school or college. Some families may already be self-isolating due to illness or because there are vulnerable people in the family. Other families may choose to temporarily discontinue packages, given the Covid 19 outbreak. Where it is agreed that continuation of the EOTAS package is appropriate, Special Needs Officers and Case Workers will work with families and providers to risk-assess the maintenance of the package of support where possible, for example considering if the way that the provider and their staff delivers the package is in-line with the government advice. Providers may need to limit or adapt their delivery to comply with the law and ensure the safety of all involved. They might provide on-line tutoring, video conferencing through fee to use apps, phoning or text messaging. Should more providers' staff need to self-isolate, continued provision may not be possible. In that case, the Local Authority will discuss if another provider or service could be offered to support the family.
I would like to be paid the equivalent of the costs of the EOTAS package and arrange it myself.	This is not possible. Payments to education providers have usually already been made or guaranteed in advance; the Local Authority has contractual obligations to these providers, just as those employers do to their employees. If a 'personal budget' was not already agreed between you and the Local Authority, the current arrangements cannot now be changed.

School transport

My child is eligible to school transport. Will this continue?	The Local Authority will continue to make home to school transport available to those children who were already eligible to receive it and who continue to be eligible to attend school during the Covid 19 outbreak. If eligible children need to temporarily attend a different school, this may require some changes to be made which may take a little time to arrange.

Key Workers

Am I a Key Worker?	Check the up to date list provided by the government: www.gov.uk Some schools may offer further flexibility. If you consider that you are in a key worker household but not defined as such on the government's list and you cannot make other suitable arrangements for your child(ren), contact your school(s).
----------------------------------	---

Mediations

I would like to have a mediation with the Local Authority. Can I still have one?	You can continue to request a mediation from the mediation provider, Releasing Potential: https://www.releasingpotential.com/mediation/
My mediation is already scheduled. Is this continuing?	The mediation provider will contact you if anything has changed with your current arrangements. Mediations will be delivered differently during the Covid 19 outbreak, due to the government's restrictions on people's movement and social distancing. Therefore, this is likely to be by telephone or video conference. If you cannot or feel unable to participate by telephone or video conference, it is likely that the mediation cannot go ahead. In that case, you have the option to request a mediation certificate. The mediation providers' staffing capacity may also limit their availability to deliver mediations.

Appeals to the First Tier Tribunal - SEND

I would like to appeal to the First Tier Tribunal. Can I still do that?	If you have received a mediation certificate from the mediation provider, Releasing Potential, you may appeal to the First Tier Tribunal in the usual way. Currently, HM Courts & Tribunals Service is continuing to receive appeals and conduct hearings but has confirmed that there will not be any hearings in person. How each appeal proceeds will be assessed on a case-by-case basis by the Tribunals Service, with input from the Local Authority.
I am currently involved in a First Tier Tribunal. Is this continuing?	Currently, the HM Courts & Tribunals Service is continuing to receive appeals and conduct hearings but has confirmed that there will not be any hearings in person. How each appeal proceeds will be assessed on a case-by-case basis by the Tribunals Service, with input from the Local Authority. If you have been provided a date for a hearing which is imminent, it is likely that the way this will be conducted is altered. The Tribunal Service has confirmed that where possible hearings will go ahead on paper or by telephone (or where technology permits by video conferencing).

	The Tribunal Panel traditionally consists of two or three members. Under current arrangements you may have one Judge who may call upon advice from other non-legal colleagues. Details will be provided two days before the hearing and parties have been asked not to call the Tribunal Service until they receive this notification. If you are waiting for a date for a hearing, the Tribunal Service will continue to contact you in the usual way, with instructions. It is anticipated that further changes to the Tribunal Service will be published very soon. Read more updates from HM Courts & Tribunals Service at their website: https://www.gov.uk/guidance/coronavirus-covid-19-courts-and-tribunals-planning-and-preparation
I am appealing for a different education placement. What will happen during the Covid 19 outbreak?	How each appeal proceeds will be assessed on a case-by-case basis by the Tribunals Service, with input from the Local Authority. As schools and colleges are currently operating with a significantly reduced staffing, they are not currently able to offer assessments or visits to aid school transfer arrangements. If your appeal involves section I of the Education, Health and Care Plan it is likely that the appeal will be adjourned or only part heard, to deal with other sections of your appeal first.
Can I still commission assessments to inform my appeal?	Currently professionals should not be attending homes or schools for assessment purposes. Some have found alternative means of assessment for example via video conferencing, but it is highly likely that your appeal will experience some delays if assessments are required by either party.
I have just been offered a new school placement through an appeal. Will that go ahead?	Some state-funded and independent schools and colleges are delaying school starts for new children due to the Covid-19 outbreak. Schools and colleges will contact you to arrange or amend start dates. In the meantime, if your child is already attending a school or college the expectation is that the current arrangements are maintained until transfer arrangements are agreed and completed. If your child is not already registered with a school or college, please contact your SEN Case Worker.
